Dear Colleague,

National Grid Electricity Transmission - System Operator (SO) Incentives from April 2011 – Industry Workshop Details

As part of this year's Initial Proposals process National Grid is holding an Electricity SO Incentives workshop in London on Wednesday 8 December 2010 (see details below).

The workshop will explain the initial proposals resulting from the SO Incentive Review and will provide an opportunity for interested parties to discuss National Grid's Initial Proposals (due to be published week commencing 22nd November) prior to submitting their formal responses to the consultation document. National Grid value and seek industry views on the proposed significant development in SO incentivisation.

Closer to the event National Grid will publish an agenda on the Electricity SO Incentives area of the National Grid website. Those parties that have registered for the event will be sent an e-mail to confirm when this material is available. Following the workshops, the presentations from the day will also be published on the National Grid website.
