

Renewable or Non-Renewable

Some sources of energy are renewable and some are not. Non-renewable sources are not environmentally friendly and are more difficult to replace, which means we may eventually run out of them.

Put an R for renewable or an N for non-renewable under each of the energy sources below:

Hydropower

Solar power

Nuclear power

Coal power

Wind energy

Oil

Interconnector

Tidal energy

