Navenby Substation

Consultation feedback form

September / October 2024

National Grid Electricity Transmission is consulting on proposals to build a new substation in the local area, approximately 1.4km from Navenby, Lincolnshire.

Overview

The way we generate electricity in the UK is changing rapidly, and we are transitioning to cheaper, cleaner and more secure forms of energy such as new solar farms. There is a shift towards renewable energy sources, meaning there is also a greater demand on our network to connect new sources of electricity and customers. The proposed substation at Navenby is in response to the increase in connection requests in the area from solar developers.

In England and Wales, the electricity transmission network is owned, built and maintained by National Grid Electricity Transmission (NGET).

Your feedback

We are seeking your views on our proposals. Your feedback is important in helping us to develop our proposals and all feedback received will be recorded and considered as we further shape our plans.

You can provide feedback during this consultation by completing this hard copy feedback form or by filling it in online. You are welcome to answer all or only some of the questions in this feedback form, depending on the issues that are most important to you. There is also an opportunity to comment generally on the project and this consultation.

Our proposals for a new substation in Navenby

This map shows a high-level overview of our proposed Navenby Substation. Find out more by visiting our website or attending our public consultation event. These are indicative proposals and are subject to change.

This image is computer generated and is a proposal.

1. Having reviewed the map and available information on the proposed Navenby substation, what are your views on the proposed siting of the new substation?

2. Do you have any comments on the proposed traffic management plan?

3. Do you have any general comments about the proposals at this stage that you would like to make us aware of (for example ecology)?

4. Is there anything we could do to reduce potential effects of our substation on the local area?

National Grid Electricity Transmission has a Community Grant Programme available to charitable and non-for-profit organisations to apply for funding for community-based initiatives of up to £20,000 per application in locations where our construction works are taking place. You can read more about that at nationalgrid.com/responsibility/community/community-grant-programme

5. In addition to our Community Grant Programme, are there other ways in which you would wish to see local communities benefit from hosting new electricity transmission infrastructure?
